

Statement Regarding AxiomV Software Licenses

RBH ACCESS TECHNOLOGIES (RBH) launched the AxiomV™ Integrated Access Control and Security Management System (AxiomV™) in July of 2003, and since then, AxiomV™ has always been licensed in two distinct editions i.e. PROFESSIONAL EDITION (PRO) and ENTERPRISE EDITION (ENT).

Among other, a key difference between the two editions has been and continues to be that the PRO edition base licensed permits up to five (05) concurrent workstations to connect to the AxiomV™ Server and the ENT edition base licensed permits ten (10) concurrent workstation licenses to connect to the AxiomV™ Server. Another difference is that the PRO edition AxiomV™ is limited to connect 5 concurrent workstation licenses whilst with the ENT edition it is possible to procure additional concurrent workstation licenses that will permit the ENT edition AxiomV™ Server to connect to said number of workstations.

In May 2011 RBH detected that both the PRO edition and the ENT edition failed to limit the number of concurrent workstations connected to the respective AxiomV™ servers. On the 9th of June 2011 RBH released Service Pack 21 [5.2.56] for both the PRO and the ENT editions that now limits the number of concurrent workstations connected to the respective AxiomV servers to five (05) as included in the PRO edition base license and to the respective number of concurrent workstation licenses acquired in the ENT edition.